

Chronological Summary of Major Post-ERISA Benefit Legislation

April 2014

Aon Hewitt has assembled a summary of the major legislation affecting employee benefits since ERISA was enacted in 1974.

On Labor Day, September 2, 1974, President Gerald Ford signed the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) into law. ERISA was the most comprehensive employee benefits legislation ever crafted by lawmakers. It provides protections for millions of employees who participate in a range of benefit programs voluntarily sponsored by private-sector employers.

Since its enactment, numerous other laws have amended ERISA and expanded its scope to provide more protections for employees as well as corresponding responsibilities for employers. Below is Aon Hewitt's summary of the major laws that have affected employee benefit programs since ERISA, beginning with the most recent legislation.

Continuing Appropriations Act, 2014 (P.L. 113-46)

- Requires income verification for anyone applying for federal subsidies in the health insurance Exchanges.

American Taxpayer Relief Act (P.L. 112-240)

- Increases taxes on individuals with taxable income of more than $400,000 (or more than $450,000 for married individuals filing jointly).
- Increases tax rates on capital gains and dividends.
- Provides a permanent patch to the alternative minimum tax (AMT).
- Extends unemployment insurance for one year.
- Includes another "doc fix" by avoiding a 27% reduction to Medicare physician reimbursements for 2013.
- Allows 401(k), 403(b), and 457(b) plans to be amended to permit the conversion of taxable vested amounts (e.g., elective deferrals, matching contributions, and nonelective employer contributions) to a designated Roth account maintained within the plan.
- Permanently extends a provision under tax Code Section 127, which allows employers to exclude up to $5,250 per year from an employee's wages for educational expenses incurred as part of an educational assistance program.
- Extends the adoption assistance credit indefinitely.

- Permanently extends the credit for employer-provided child care facilities and services under tax Code Section 45(F).
- Re-establishes the parity between qualified transportation (i.e., mass transit, vanpools, and transit passes provided by an employer) and qualified parking fringe benefits through December 31, 2013.

Bill Extending E-Verify (P.L. 112-176)

- Extends E-Verify until September 30, 2015.
- Extends the EB-5 Regional Center program until September 30, 2015.
- Extends the Special Immigrant Nonminister Religious Worker program until September 30, 2015.
- Extends the Conrad State 30 J-1 visa waiver program until September 30, 2015.

Moving Ahead for Progress on the 21st Century Act (MAP-21) (P.L. 112-141)

- Includes pension funding stabilization provisions.
- Increases PBGC premiums.
- Extends highway and transit programs for 27 months.

Jumpstart Our Business Startups (JOBS) Act (P.L. 112-106)

- Loosens securities reporting and registration requirements to ease capital formation for small businesses.
- Includes provisions exempting companies with less than $1 billion in revenue from say-on-pay rules and pay-versus-performance and pay ratio disclosure requirements.

Middle Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012 (P.L. 112-96)

- Extends the existing two percentage point payroll tax cut through the end of 2012.
- Extends unemployment insurance benefits through the end of 2012.
- Prevents payments to Medicare providers from being cut through the end of 2012. Paid for by a reduction in funding for the Prevention and Public Health Fund that was established by the Affordable Care Act.

Temporary Payroll Tax Cut Continuation Act of 2011 (P.L. 112-78)

- Extends the existing two percentage point payroll tax cut through February 29, 2012.

- Extends unemployment insurance benefits through February 29, 2012.
- Prevents payments to Medicare providers from being cut through February 29, 2012.

3% Withholding Repeal and Job Creation Act (P.L. 112-56)

- Repeals the Tax Increase Prevention and Reconciliation Act of 2005 that required federal, state, and large local governments to withhold 3% from certain payments for goods and services.
- Includes the Vow to Hire Heroes Act, aimed at improving employment opportunities for unemployed veterans through enhanced job training and tax incentives for employers that hire them. The amendment provides a tax credit of $2,400 for hiring veterans who have been unemployed for at least four weeks, but less than six months, and a credit of up to $5,600 for hiring veterans who have been jobless for at least six months.
- Fixes the Medicaid “glitch” in the Affordable Care Act, by including Social Security benefits in the calculation of modified adjusted gross income.

Department of Defense and Full-Year Continuing Appropriations Act of 2011 (P.L. 112-10)

- Repeals the Affordable Care Act’s “free choice voucher” program, effective in 2014, that would have required employers to provide vouchers in the amount of the employer’s health care contribution for certain low-income workers whose employer provided health insurance premiums cost between 8% and 9.8% of household income. The employee could have then used the vouchers to purchase health insurance in the exchanges and keep any excess amount if the voucher exceeded the cost of health coverage.
- Includes a reduction of $2.2 billion (from an original $6 billion) in Affordable Care Act funding to support the Consumer Operated and Oriented Plan program that would have been used to create private non-profit insurance plans.
- Provides several GAO reports relating to specific provisions in the Affordable Care Act, including: a list of contracts, outside firms, and consultants used to implement the Affordable Care Act; a report by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Office of the Actuary on the estimated impact of the guaranteed issues, guaranteed renewal, and community rating requirements on premiums for individuals and families with employer-provided health insurance; and an audit of expenditures that have been made for comparative effectiveness research funds.

Comprehensive 1099 Taxpayer Protection and Repayment of Exchange Subsidy Overpayments Act of 2011 (P.L. 112-9)

- Repeals the reporting requirement that businesses must file a Form 1099 for any payment totaling $600 or more in a calendar year to a single payee beginning in 2012, as created under the Affordable Care Act.

2010

Omnibus Trade Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-344)

- Extends the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program six weeks (through February 12, 2011).
- Extends changes to the TAA that were included in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA). These include an expanded health care tax credit (HCTC) from 65% to 80%; allowing immediate family members to continue receiving the HCTC for 24 months after the TAA-eligible individual becomes eligible for Medicare, becomes divorced, or dies; and an expanded period of COBRA coverage for certain TAA-eligible individuals and Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) benefit recipients.

Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-312)

- Extends the current individual income tax rates and capital gains and dividends tax rates for two years (until December 31, 2012).
- Includes a two-year alternative minimum tax (AMT) patch.
- Establishes a 35% estate tax rate with a $5 million (per person) exemption level.
- Extends unemployment insurance for 13 months.
- Reduces the Social Security payroll tax for employees to 4.2% for 2011.
- Provides employees in 2011 an extension of tax-free distributions from individual retirement plans to charitable organizations and parity for excluding from income employer-provided mass transit and parking benefits.
- For employers, the wage credit for employees who are active duty members and the work opportunity credit are extended to December 31, 2011.
- Extends exclusions for employer-provided adoption assistance programs and educational assistance through 2012.

Medicare and Medicaid Extenders Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-309)

- Delays the planned 25% Medicare physician payment cut, that would have gone into effect January 1, 2011, one year (until December 31, 2011).

Physician Payment and Therapy Relief Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-286)

- Delays the 23% Medicare physician pay cut for one month (until December 31, 2010).
- Continues the current 2.2% pay increase for physicians.
- Ensures Medicare and Tricare (the health care program for active-duty service members, National Guard and Reserve members, retirees, and their families) continue to pay physicians who participate in those programs at current levels.

Small Business Jobs and Credit Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-240)

- Establishes small business lending and tax incentives.
- Allows governmental Section 457(b) plans to add Roth features starting in 2011.
- Gives defined contribution plans (e.g., 401(k) and 403(b) plans) the option of permitting participants to convert their distributable pretax and after-tax money into Roth accounts within the plan.

Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (P.L. 111-203)

- Aims to improve the accountability and transparency of banks and financial firms.
- Establishes the Financial Stability Oversight Council to identify risks to the financial stability of the United States, promote market discipline, and respond to emerging threats to the stability of the U.S. financial markets.
- Creates a new independent agency, the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection, to oversee financial institutions.
- Includes several executive compensations provisions, such as shareholder votes on executive pay and “golden parachutes,” new disclosure requirements for executive compensation, and clawback provisions to recoup incentive-based compensation when a company is required to restate its financial statements.
- Requires the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), in consultation with the Department of Labor (DOL), Treasury, and applicable state entities, to conduct a study to determine whether stable value funds fall within the definition of swaps.
- Clarifies that swap dealers will only be considered fiduciaries when acting as advisors to pension funds and excludes pension funds from the definition of major swap participants, even if they use swaps to hedge or mitigate risk.

Preservation of Access to Care for Medicare Beneficiaries and Pension Relief Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-192)

- Includes defined benefit funding relief for single-employer plans for up to two years, by extending the period for plans to amortize their funding shortfalls beyond the current seven-year amortization period by substituting a nine-year or 15-year amortization period.
- Outlines penalties in the form of increased pension contributions from employers that accept funding relief at the same time they award “excess employee compensation” (generally pay over $1 million), dividends, or stock redemptions.
- Extends relief through plan years beginning before October 1, 2010 from otherwise mandatory freezes of benefit accruals in plans that are less than 60% funded, and exempts Social Security leveling payments from the limitation on accelerated benefit distributions for plan years beginning before October 1, 2010 for plans that are less than 80% funded.

- For multiemployer plans, the relief allows amortization of the net asset losses over 30 years. Additionally, asset smoothing methods may be adjusted to account for asset losses up to ten years and may use an expanded 80%/130% corridor for up to two years. Additionally, plans must meet a solvency test to use the extended asset loss amortization.
- Includes a Medicare physician payment fix, which prevents a 21% payment cut and adds a 2.2% payment increase, through November 30, 2010.

Continuing Extension Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-157)

- Temporarily extends the federal 65% COBRA premium subsidy through May 31, 2010.
- Extends the Medicare physician payment update, preventing a 21% reduction, to May 31, 2010.
- Extends unemployment insurance benefits from April 5, 2010 to June 2, 2010.

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (Affordable Care Act) (P.L. 111-148; P.L. 111-152)

- The Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act incorporates a series of amendments to the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.
- Requires individuals to purchase health insurance coverage or pay an income tax penalty beginning in 2014. Enrollment in an employer group health plan satisfies the individual mandate.
- Beginning in 2014, requires states to create Health Insurance Exchanges where individuals and small employers can purchase health insurance.
- Employers are subject to a “free rider” penalty, under which employers with at least 50 full-time employees must pay a penalty if a full-time employee receives a federal subsidy to purchase health insurance in the exchanges. A penalty is assessed if the employer does not offer health coverage at all, if the employer offers coverage that is considered “unaffordable,” or the employer’s plan has an actuarial value of less than 60%. In addition, employers that offer health care coverage and make a contribution toward the cost of the health care coverage must provide “free choice vouchers” to qualified employees for the purchase of qualified health plans through the exchanges (later repealed by the Department of Defense and Full Year Continuing Appropriations Act of 2011).
- Grandfathered plans are subject to certain insurance reforms, such as extending coverage to children until age 26, prohibiting lifetime and annual limits, and prohibiting waiting periods beyond 90 days, among others.
- Requires employers with more than 200 employees to automatically enroll new full-time employees in health care coverage (subject to any waiting period authorized by law).
- Creates a $5 billion fund to finance a temporary reinsurance program to help employers offset the costs of expensive health claims for retirees ages 55–64 and their families.
- Imposes a 40% excise tax on the value of health coverage offered by employers that exceeds a certain threshold.

- Requires employers to report the annual cost of health care coverage received by their employees on Forms W-2.
- Caps annual contributions to employer-provided health care flexible spending arrangements (FSAs) at $2,500 (indexed) and limits reimbursement of over-the-counter medicines to those that have a prescription.
- Imposes an additional Medicare tax of 0.9% on wages and 3.8% on unearned income on individuals receiving wages in excess of $200,000 (single taxpayers) or $250,000 (couples). These new taxes are imposed only on the employee portion of the Medicare tax, not on the employer portion.
- Effective in 2013, eliminates the deduction for expenses allocable to the Medicare Part D subsidy paid to employers that maintain prescription drug plans for their Medicare Part D-eligible retirees.

Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment (HIRE) Act (P.L. 111-147)

- Provides payroll tax holiday for employers that hire workers who have been unemployed for at least 60 days. Employers will receive a Social Security payroll tax exemption for every employee hired between February 3, 2010, and January 1, 2011.
- Businesses will receive an income tax credit equal to the lesser of $1,000 or 6.2% of an employee's wages for every new hire that is retained for at least 52 weeks.

Temporary Extension Act of 2010 (TEA) (P.L. 111-144)

- Extends the 65% COBRA premium subsidy included in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) through March 31, 2010. Expands eligibility for the COBRA premium subsidy to certain individuals who are involuntarily terminated after experiencing a reduction in hours.
- Continues the emergency unemployment compensation program through April 5, 2010.
- Extends the Medicare physician payment update, which sustains current Medicare payment rates for physicians (preventing a 21% reduction), through March 31, 2010.

Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010 (P.L. 111-118)

- Extends the 65% COBRA premium subsidy included in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) through February 28, 2010. Extends the length of the COBRA premium subsidy period to 15 months.
- Continues the emergency unemployment compensation program through February 28, 2010.
- Sustains Medicare physician payments, avoiding a 21% reduction, through February 28, 2010.

National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (P.L. 111-84)

- Amends the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) to expand provisions related to military family leave.

- Makes qualifying exigency leave available to family members of active duty members. Additionally, qualifying exigency leave is not available when the spouse, child, or parent is deployed during a contingency operation. The deployment needs to be active duty service in a foreign country.
- Makes military caregiver leave available to care for a veteran who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of active duty, if the treatment, recuperation, or therapy is occurring within five years of the veteran's military service. "Serious injury or illness" now includes injuries or illnesses that existed prior to the military service, but were aggravated by the service.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) (P.L. 111-5)

Health, Privacy, and Benefit Provisions

- Includes COBRA subsidies for employees involuntarily terminated between September 1, 2008 and December 31, 2009. Requires employees to pay 35% of the COBRA premium and employers to pay the other 65%, with the ability to claim a credit against wage and withholding payroll taxes. An employee is eligible to receive subsidized COBRA coverage for up to nine months, followed by unsubsidized coverage for nine months, or until the employee becomes eligible for health care coverage through another employer or Medicare. Eligibility for the subsidy is capped at higher income levels.
- Allocates approximately $20 billion toward health IT infrastructure, industry standards, and incentives for health care providers and facilities to adopt electronic health record technologies to reduce health care costs and improve health care quality. Contains comprehensive Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Privacy and Security Rule provisions that will impact covered entities (i.e., health plans, certain health care providers) and their business associates.
- Provides $1.1 billion for comparative effectiveness research and $1 billion for a new Prevention and Wellness Fund.
- Extends the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program until December 31, 2010. Expands the health care tax credit (HCTC) from 65% to 80% and allows immediate family members to continue receiving the HCTC for 24 months after the TAA-eligible individual becomes eligible for Medicare, becomes divorced, or dies.
- Equalizes the tax-free benefit employers can provide for transit and parking by increasing the transit pass/commuter vehicle transportation benefit to $230 a month.

Tax and Employment Provisions

- Provides a "Making Work Pay" tax credit in the amount of 6.2% of earned income of up to $400 for individuals and $800 for joint filers, through a reduction in payroll withholding levels in tax years 2009 and 2010 or by claiming the credit on tax returns. The phase-out of the credit begins for taxpayers with adjusted gross income in excess of $75,000 ($150,000 for married couples filing jointly).
- Patches the alternative minimum tax (AMT) for 2009 by raising the exemption levels to $46,700 for individuals and to $70,950 for joint filers.
- Extends the Emergency Unemployment Compensation program, which provides up to 33 weeks of extended benefits, until December 31, 2009. Increases unemployment weekly benefits by $25 and temporarily suspends federal income tax on the first $2,400 of unemployment benefits per recipient during 2009.

- Creates two new groups of prospective employees—unemployed veterans and disconnected youth—for whom employers are allowed to claim a work opportunity tax credit.
- Prohibits companies receiving Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) funds from hiring workers with H 1B visas for two years unless they meet the definition of an H-1B dependent employer.
- Prohibits companies receiving TARP funds from taking adverse employment action against an employee who discloses information that he or she reasonably believes is evidence of gross mismanagement of a contract, gross waste of covered funds, a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety, abuse of authority related to using the funds, or a violation of law related to a contract.
- Provides a one-time refundable tax credit of $250 in 2009 for certain government retirees who are not eligible for Social Security benefits.

Executive Compensation Provisions

- Subjects companies that have received or will receive TARP assistance to onerous restrictions on executive compensation and bonuses.
- Institutes executive pay limits applicable from 1 to 25 executives based on a sliding scale tied to the amount of TARP assistance received but exempts restricted stock awards and payments made pursuant to a written employment contract.
- Prohibits “golden parachute” payments to a TARP company’s top ten highly compensated employees and directs the Secretary of the Treasury to review past compensation and possibly negotiate for reimbursements.
- Requires TARP recipients to create a Board Compensation Committee and institutes an annual say-on-pay vote for shareholders to determine executive compensation.

Children’s Health Insurance Program Reauthorization Act of 2009 (CHIPRA) (P.L. 111-3)

- Reauthorizes the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP) through fiscal year 2013. (Note: The new law changes the formal name of the “State Children’s Health Insurance Program” (SCHIP) to the “Children’s Health Insurance Program” (CHIP)).
- Requires employers to provide notice to employees of their enrollment rights under CHIPRA. Failure to provide this notice will result in fines assessed against the employer.
- Requires group health plan administrators to disclose to states, upon request, information about their group health plans that allows states to determine an employee’s eligibility for CHIP.
- Allows employers to opt out of receiving premium assistance directly from the state for CHIP-eligible employees and their children. The state then pays the premium assistance subsidy directly to the employee.
- Requires employers to provide a special enrollment period for those employees that lose Medicaid or CHIP coverage.

- Provides wraparound dental benefits under CHIP for families with private insurance.
- Applies to both public and private employers as it amends the Internal Revenue Code, ERISA, and the Social Security Act.

Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act of 2009 (P.L. 111-2)

- Amends Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Rehabilitation Act to allow employees to allege that their employers made discriminatory compensation decisions or practices over an extended period of time.
- Reverses the U.S. Supreme Court's 2007 holding in Ledbetter v. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., which restricted the scope of employee pay discrimination claims to events that occurred within the 180- or 300 day (depending on the state) period for filing discrimination claims against employers.
- Restores the "paycheck accrual rule," so that a discriminatory compensation decision or practice occurs with each paycheck and that a violation can continue beyond the 180- or 300-day charge filing period.
- Establishes a two-year statute of limitations for recovery of back pay damages where the "unlawful employment practices that have occurred during the charge filing period are similar or related to unlawful employment practices with regard to discrimination in compensation that occurred outside the time for filing a charge."
- Permits claims beyond pay discrimination and applies to any "other practice" of discrimination that has a connection to compensation.
- Eliminates the requirement that a plaintiff have an employment relationship with an employer to bring a discrimination lawsuit by permitting any individual who is "affected by" discrimination to bring a claim.

Worker, Retiree, and Employer Recovery Act of 2008 (WRERA) (P.L. 110-458)

- Waives the required minimum distribution (RMD) rules for defined contribution plans and individual retirement accounts (IRAs) for the 2009 calendar year (this relief does not apply to RMDs from defined benefit plans).
- Allows single-employer plans three years to phase in pension funding target percentages under the Pension Protection Act (PPA).
- Allows multiemployer plans to freeze the funding status of their plans to allow time for economic recovery.
- Allows multiemployer plans to elect a three-year extension of current amortization rules to help offset losses in 2008.
- Temporarily suspends limits on benefit accruals for participants in underfunded pension plans.

- Implements technical corrections to provisions of the PPA affecting cash balance pension plans, asset smoothing, market rates of return for governmental plans, and other issues.

Michelle's Law—2008 (P.L. 110-381)

- Ensures that college students covered as dependents under a parent's group health plan do not lose their coverage when they take a medically necessary leave of absence or switch to part-time student status due to a serious illness or injury.
- Amends ERISA, the Public Health Service Act, and the Internal Revenue Code to prohibit group health plans from terminating coverage of a qualifying dependent child before the earlier of one year after the first day of a medically necessary leave of absence or the date on which such coverage would otherwise terminate under the terms of the plan.

Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (EESA) (P.L. 110-343)

- Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to establish a Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) to purchase troubled assets from financial institutions; and includes significant changes in executive compensation for financial institutions that participate in the TARP, whether by selling assets directly to the Treasury or through the auction process.
- Increases the alternative minimum tax (AMT) exemption to $46,200 for individuals and $69,950 for married couples filing jointly; revises the refundable AMT credit; and offers assistance for AMT taxpayers who exercise incentive stock options.
- Provides that nonqualified deferred compensation paid to U.S. taxpayers by a tax indifferent party (such as an offshore corporation in a low- or no-tax jurisdiction) will become taxable as soon as the amounts are no longer subject to substantial risk of forfeiture.
- For all counties in the Midwest that are federally declared disaster areas, EESA waives the 10% penalty tax if a distribution is from an individual retirement account (IRA) or other tax-favored retirement plan; allows distributions for home purchases that were made from a 401(k) plan, 403(b) plan, or IRA to be recontributed tax-free; and increases the amount that can be borrowed from 401(k), 403(b), and 457(b) plans to the lesser of $100,000 or 100% of the vested accrued benefit for loans made after the date of enactment and before January 1, 2010.
- Includes mental health parity provisions, entitled the Paul Wellstone and Pete Domenici Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008. The parity provisions amend ERISA, the Public Health Service Act, and the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) to prohibit group health plans from imposing more restrictive treatment limits and financial requirements (including copays, deductibles, coinsurance, and out of pocket expenses) for mental health and substance abuse benefits than for medical and surgical benefits. EESA also makes permanent the original 1996 mental health parity law providing that a health care plan or policy may not provide a separate lower annual or lifetime dollar maximum on mental health benefits compared to medical benefits. In addition, out-of-network mental health services must be covered at the same level as out-of-network medical and surgical benefits.

ADA Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA) (P.L. 110-325)

- Clarifies that the definition of disability should be broadly construed to cover individuals to the maximum extent permitted by the ADAAA and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).
- Contains a non-exhaustive list of major life activities that includes caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, speaking, breathing, and working.
- Contains a non-exhaustive list of major bodily functions (including digestive, bowel, bladder, neurological, respiratory, and circulatory), the operations of which are major life activities.
- Overturns Sutton v. United Airlines by prohibiting the consideration of mitigating measures in the determination of whether an individual is disabled, with the exception of ordinary eyeglasses or contact lenses.
- Expands the regarded as prong of the definition of disability, by allowing individuals to establish they were subject to adverse actions based on the employer's perception of an impairment, even one not perceived to limit a major life activity.
- Excludes individuals with minor and transitory impairments lasting less than six months from being regarded as disabled.
- Provides the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), Attorney General, and Secretary of Transportation the authority to issue regulations implementing the definitions created by the ADAAA.
- Directs the EEOC to revise the definition of "substantially limits" in its current regulations.
- Clarifies that an impairment that is episodic or in remission is a disability if it would substantially limit a major life activity when active.

Heroes Earnings Assistance and Relief Tax Act of 2008 (HEART Act) (P.L. 110-245)

- Makes permanent the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) provision that permits active duty reservists to make penalty-free withdrawals from retirement plans.
- Allows any differential military pay to be included in the calculation of wages for retirement plan purposes and allows employers to report the differential military pay on the Form W-2.
- Modifies the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) for the purposes of triggering the payment of qualified plan benefits and allows recipients of military death benefit gratuities to roll over the amounts received, tax-free, to a Roth IRA or a Coverdell education savings account.
- Permits reservists who are called to active duty for at least 180 days to withdraw any remaining balances in their health care flexible spending arrangements.

Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA) (P.L. 110-233)

- Employer-sponsored group health plans are prohibited from using genetic information to discriminate in health benefits and other terms of employment.

- Title I of GINA prohibits the use of genetic information to discriminate in health benefits. Employer-sponsored group health plans and health insurers are prohibited from restricting enrollment or adjusting premiums based on genetic information; and requiring or requesting genetic information or genetic testing, or purchasing genetic information, prior to or after enrollment.
- Title II prohibits the use of genetic information to discriminate in employment. New provisions concerning the confidentiality of genetic information are also included. Generally, any genetic information in the possession of an employer (or labor organization or Taft-Hartley organization committee) must be kept on separate forms and in separate medical files and treated as a confidential medical record.
- GINA's enforcement provisions and remedies are consistent with the enforcement provisions of and remedies under Title VII. GINA does not preempt other federal or state laws that are equally or more protective or grant additional rights to individuals, including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008 (P.L. 110-181)

- Amends the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) to create two new FMLA leave entitlements aimed at family members of military personnel.
- The first new leave entitlement, the Call to Duty Leave provision, permits eligible employees to take up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave for a "qualifying exigency" related to the active duty status of the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent.
- The second new leave entitlement, the Service Member Family Leave provision, permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of unpaid leave to care for a family member who is wounded while on active military duty.
- With respect to the Department of Defense (DOD) federal contracting requirements, modifies the competitive sourcing provision applicable to federal defense contractors by excluding health care and retirement costs from the public-private cost comparison competition selection process under OMB Circular A-76.
- Further modifies the DOD contracting requirements to eliminate the automatic rebidding of work won by federal employees and to require the DOD to issue guidance on allowing federal employees to bid on new work or work currently performed by contractors.

- Replaces the funding requirements for defined benefit pension plans by subjecting defined benefit plans to a 100% of current liability funding target, requiring more funding of "at-risk" defined benefit plans, and imposing new benefit limits on underfunded defined benefit plans.
- Changes the premiums that the sponsors of underfunded defined benefit plans must pay to the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC).
- Clarifies the legal standing of cash balance and hybrid pension plans by making it clear that, at least prospectively, plans complying with the PPA rules do not discriminate on the basis of age.

- Extends certain tax incentives for retirement savings, modifies tax provisions relating to spending for health care, establishes a safe harbor for employers to provide investment advice to help employees manage their 401(k) plan accounts, and provides a safe harbor for automatic enrollment of employees in 401(k) plans.
- Provides for modifications to the plan asset rules that determine when participant contributions become assets of a plan, and to the prohibited transaction rules, which prohibit a wide range of transactions between a plan and a party in interest unless an exemption applies.
- Requires more disclosure to participants about how their retirement plans are performing.

Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 (P.L. 109-8)

- Protects retirement funds in qualified plan accounts under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).
- Excludes from an individual's estate any amounts withheld by an employer from an employee's wages that are contributions to qualified ERISA plans regulated by state law.
- Requires that a debtor or trustee continue to perform the obligations required of a plan administrator under ERISA if the debtor had served as an administrator prior to its filing a bankruptcy petition.
- Clarifies that bankruptcy will not interfere with plan loan repayment under employer-sponsored pension plans, profit-sharing plans, stock bonus plans, or other plans under Code section 401, 403, 408, 408A, 414, 457, or 501(c).
- Imposes a $1 million cap (periodically adjusted) on the amount of a debtor's interest in an IRA (traditional or Roth) that may be claimed exempt.

Veterans Benefits Improvement Act of 2004 (P.L. 108-454)

- Amends the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployments Rights Act (USERRA) to require employers to provide 24 months of COBRA coverage instead of 18 months to an individual called to active duty.
- Requires employers to post a notice of employee rights under USERRA. This requirement can be met by posting the notice in a place where employers customarily provide notices to employees. The Department of Labor (DOL) must provide the required notice within 90 days after enactment.
- Effective on the date of enactment.

American Jobs Creation Act (AJCA) of 2004 (P.L. 108-357)

- Repeals extraterritorial income exclusion in current tax law, but the law also contains significant new rules for nonqualified deferred compensation plans. These provisions will be effective for compensation deferred after December 31, 2004, unless the existing plan is "materially modified."

- The definition of “nonqualified deferred compensation plan” is broad enough to include some equity based compensation, such as restricted stock, restricted stock units, and stock appreciation rights. Deferral elections for “performance-based compensation” covering at least a 12-month service period may be made not later than six months before the end of the period. If a plan does not comply with the new rules, the individuals affected by the noncompliance are subject to immediate income taxation, a 20 percent penalty, and underpayment interest.
- Congress intends to address technical corrections in 2005, but in the meantime, to provide the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and taxpayers with some guidance regarding congressional intent, a technical corrections bill was introduced on November 19, 2004. The legislation would clarify that Treasury guidance providing transition rules would apply to plans adopted before January 1, 2005, and that the effective date of the funding provisions relating to offshore trusts and financial triggers is January 1, 2005.
- On December 20, 2004, Treasury and IRS issued Notice 2005-1 providing transition rules and other guidance related to Code section 409A that was enacted as part of the AJCA. Notice 2005-1, issued in question-and-answer format, includes transition rules, definitions, some information on the scope of coverage, employers’ new reporting and employment tax obligations, and effective dates. Significantly, the notice states that some types of stock appreciation rights will not fall under Section 409A. The notice can be relied on immediately subject to a good faith, reasonable interpretation of the law. Treasury and IRS requested comments on a number of issues, and additional guidance is expected by mid-year 2005.

Working Families Tax Relief Act of 2004 (P.L. 108-311)

- Extends several expiring tax provisions. The law extends through 2010, marriage penalty relief, the 10 percent income tax bracket, and the $1,000 per child tax credit. The law also extends through 2005 the current mental health parity law and Archer Medical Savings Accounts.

Extension of Current Mental Health Parity—2004 (P.L. 108-311)

- As part of the Working Families Tax Relief Act (as described above), the current law mental health parity provisions under ERISA, the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), and the Public Health Service Act (PHSA) have been extended for one year through December 31, 2005.

Pension Funding Equity Act of 2004 (PFEA) (P.L. 108-218)

- Temporarily replaces the 30-year Treasury rate for some key pension plan calculations. PFEA replaces the 30-year Treasury rate with a composite corporate bond rate based on publicly available indices of corporate bonds in the top three bond quality levels. Current liability for minimum funding purposes will be calculated using an interest rate of between 90 percent and 100 percent of the four-year weighted average of corporate bond rates. PFEA also includes other relief provisions that apply to the calculation of quarterly contributions for 2004 plan years, determinations of whether a plan is subject to the deficit reduction contribution (DRC), the ability to make large deductible contributions by having the option to calculate deduction limits using the 30-year Treasury rate, and the use of 85 percent of the corporate bond rate for purposes of calculating the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) variable rate premiums. The new law also provides DRC relief for pension plans in the airline and steel industries, as well as funding relief for some multiemployer plans that meet specific criteria. The provisions of the legislation generally apply to 2004 and 2005 plan years only.

Mental Health Parity Reauthorization Act of 2003 (P.L. 108-197)

- The current law mental health parity provisions under ERISA, the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), and the Public Health Service Act (PHSA) were extended for one year through December 31, 2004.

Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA) (P.L. 108-173)

- Represents the largest expansion of the Medicare program since its enactment in 1965. Among its key features, the law adds a temporary prescription drug discount program in 2004 and in 2005, and it adds prescription drug coverage for post-65 and disabled Medicare beneficiaries beginning in 2006 under a new Part D. It also implements a new reimbursement structure for Medicare+Choice plans (now renamed Medicare Advantage) and expands the types of plans available, revises payments to providers, expands Medicare coverage of preventive benefits, and establishes new Health Savings Accounts for individuals who are not Medicare eligible.
- For employers providing retiree health coverage that is at least actuarially equivalent to the standard Medicare drug benefit, the law provides that Medicare will pay an amount equal to 28 percent of gross covered prescription drug costs (net of rebates and discounts) between $250 and $5,000 per retiree. This Medicare payment will be excludable from an employer's taxable income, and employers subject to federal income taxes will still be able to deduct the full drug expense even though they receive the 28 percent subsidy from Medicare for the same costs. Together, the direct subsidies and the tax benefits have been estimated to total $89 billion over ten years. Employers also have many other options for coordinating with the Medicare benefit, such as supplementing the Medicare benefit or subsidizing retiree premiums for the Medicare benefit.
- The new law also allows the importation of prescription drugs into the U.S. from Canada, if the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) certifies that commercial importation of such drugs poses no additional risk to the public's health and safety. However, HHS Secretary Thompson has stated that he could not certify the safety of the imported drugs.

Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003 (P.L. 108-27)

- Cuts tax rates as of January 1, 2003 and provides "marriage tax" relief for 2003 and 2004. It also increases the child tax credit to $1,000 for 2003 and 2004, and provides for an advance rebate of up to $400 per eligible child in July 2003. The law also reduces capital gains tax rates and provides that dividends received by individual shareholders from domestic and qualified foreign corporations will be taxed at lower capital gains rates.

Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-204)

- Establishes an accounting oversight board of five members, appointed for five-year terms. Two of the members must be or have been certified public accountants (CPAs), and the remaining three must not be and cannot have been CPAs. The Chair may be held by one of the CPA members, provided he or she has not been engaged as a practicing CPA for five years.
- Requires executives certify the contents of the company's most recent financial statements filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).
- Prohibition of most loans to directors and executive officers.
- Accelerated reporting of insider trading transactions.
- Employers required to provide 30-day written or electronic notice of blackout period and prohibition on officers and directors purchasing or selling stock during a blackout period.
- Prohibits any registered public accounting firm from providing non-audit services with audit services.
- Provides corporate and criminal fraud accountability.

Trade Adjustment Assistance Reform—2002 (P.L. 107-210)

- The Trade Act of 2002 made changes to the Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program including the addition of an individual tax credit for health insurance costs for TAA-eligible individuals, a mechanism for advance payment of the credit, and an extension of the COBRA election period for such individuals.
- The credit and the advance payment provisions (but not the extended COBRA election period) also applies to individuals who are receiving pension benefits paid in whole, or in part, by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC).
- In general, the health insurance credit provisions of the new law are effective from November 4, 2002 until the TAA program expires in 2007.

The Public Health Security and Bioterrorism Preparedness and Response Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-188)

- Provides new programs to increase the preparedness and response capability of the U.S. public health system for a bioterrorist attack and public health emergency.
- Reauthorizes the Prescription Drug User Fees Act (PDUFA) through FY 2007.
- Authorizes additional funding for the Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) Office of Drug Safety, the Office of Generic Drugs and the Division of Drug Marketing, Advertising and Communications.
- Provides FDA with the authority to notify physicians when clinical studies of new drugs have not been completed.
- Includes a 3-year delay in lock-in procedures for Medicare+Choice plans.

- Includes change in Medicare+Choice ACR reporting deadlines and annual, coordinated election period for 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Job Creation and Worker Assistance Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-147)

- Makes technical corrections to the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001
- Extends the Work Opportunity Tax Credit, which expired at the end of 2001, for two years.
- Extends the Welfare to Work Credit, which expired at the end of 2001, for two years.
- Extends the Archer Medical Savings Accounts programs through 2003.
- Extends unemployment benefits for certain unemployed workers up to 13 weeks. This brings available unemployment benefits to 39 weeks for most states.
- Extends two education tax credits.

Victims of Terrorism Tax Relief Act of 2001 (P.L. 107-134)

- Waives income tax liability for both 2000 and 2001 for those killed in the September terrorist attacks or in the subsequent anthrax terrorism, as well as 1994 and 1995 Oklahoma casualties.
- Provides tax-free treatment of employer provided death benefits to families of victims.
- Allows employers to establish private foundations to provide tax-free assistance to victims' families.

Administrative Simplification Compliance Act of 2001 (P.L. 107-105)

- One year delay to October 16, 2003 of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) standards for electronic health care transactions and code sets.
- Requires Health and Human Services (HHS) to develop and promulgate a model compliance form for the plan by March 31, 2002, and to allow for compliance plans to be submitted electronically.
- Continues compliance deadlines for the Privacy Rule (April 14, 2003 for all covered entities except small health plans; April 14, 2004 for small health plans).
- Requires providers stop submitting paper claims and submit claims electronically to Medicare by October 16, 2003.

Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 (EGTRRA) (P.L. 107-16)

- Increases participant elective deferrals to 401(k), 401(b) or 457 governmental plans to $11,000 in 2002, up from $10,500 in 2001. Thereafter the limit increases $1,000 per year until it reaches $15,000 in 2006. After 2006, the limit is indexed for inflation in $500 increments.

- Allows “catch-up” contributions for employees age 50 and over if the plan allows. The catch-up limit is $1,000 in 2002 and increases $1,000 per year until it reaches $5,000 in 2006. After 2006, the limit is indexed for inflation in $500 increments.
- Increases 415 limit to the lesser of $40,000 or 100% of a participant’s compensation for plan years beginning in 2002, up from $35,000 or 25% of compensation in 2001.
- Increases 401(a)(17) limit to $200,000 for plan years beginning in 2002, up from $170,000 in 2001. Indexed for inflation in $5,000 increments thereafter.
- Increases deductible contributions to a stock bonus or profit-sharing plan (includes most 401(k) plans) to 25% of aggregate participant compensation from current 15%, with certain narrow exceptions. Additionally, participants’ elective deferrals will no longer count toward the 25% limit.
- Changes definition of “compensation” for deduction purposes. Beginning in 2002, compensation is based on “gross pay,” i.e., before amounts are deducted from participants’ pay for cafeteria plan contributions, elective deferrals or tax-free transportation fringe benefits. Previously, “compensation” was determined after such amounts were taken out.

Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Act of 1999 (P.L. 106-170)

- Provides SSDI and disabled SSI beneficiaries with a “ticket” to obtain employment services, vocational rehabilitation (VR) services, and other support services from a provider of their choice to enable them to enter the workforce.
- Provides payments to employment networks that develop an individual employment plan for each beneficiary to select an employment goal and specific services to achieve that goal.
- Establishes a Work Incentives Advisory Panel to advise the President, Congress, and the Commission of Social Security on issues related to work incentives programs, planning, and assistance for individuals with disabilities.
- Expands state options under the Medicaid program for workers with disabilities.
- Extends Medicare coverage for OASDI disability benefit recipients.
- Extends SSDI program demonstration authority for five years, including authority for demonstration projects involving applicants as well as beneficiaries.

Omnibus Consolidated and Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1998 (P.L. 105-277)

- Requires group health plans that provide coverage for mastectomy to also provide coverage for reconstructive surgery and to notify each participant and beneficiary of the new coverage, in writing (also known as the Women’s Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998).

- Increases amounts Medicare must pay to providers of home health care services.
- Increases the number of H-1B visas for skilled foreign workers (also known as the Workforce Improvement and Protection Act).
- Accelerates the full deduction of health insurance expenses by the self-employed for years beginning in 2003.
- Allows the child credit, adoption credit, HOPE and lifetime learning credits, and other nonrefundable personal credits to offset the individual's regular tax (as opposed to only the amount by which the regular tax exceeds the alternative minimum tax, as under prior rules).

Higher Education Amendments Act of 1998 (P.L. 105-244)

- Allows colleges and universities to offer tenured faculty certain voluntary supplemental early retirement incentive plans that are reduced or eliminated based on age.
