Aon Community Art Award

Guide prices

Bringing together Aon's focus on community and talent development, we are proud to support young artists from three UK art schools – Glasgow School of Art; Leeds Arts University; and Manchester School of Art. The project provides workshops and mentoring for a period of one year, while the artworks are exhibited in Aon's client suite. The pieces are now available for sale, with the full value of the successful bids going direct to the artist, with any unsold works returned to them. Investing in a piece of artwork is a wonderful way to support the career of new artists.

On the following pages is information on the various pieces, together with a guide price which has been set by the artist. Please refer to the accompanying catalogue and the website aon.co.uk/artaward for more information.

Each artist has chosen one piece to be auctioned at the live auction, which are marked with an asterisk in this booklet. The highest bids received online for any item marked with an asterisk will be taken forward to the live auction being held on the 16 May 2019.

You can bid on any other piece via the online auction which ends at the close of the 23 May 2019 and successful bidders will be notified on the 24 May 2019. All pieces of art will be available from the beginning of August when we remove them from the client suite.

If you want to submit a bid for the online auction, please visit aon.co.uk/artaward

If you want to come along to the live auction, please send an email to aonartawards@aon.co.uk and we'll send you an invitation.

For more information, view the website: aon.co.uk/artaward or for any outstanding questions, email aonartawards@aon.co.uk
